Mr. Sudde reminded parents of the importance of keeping appointments. "Missing of appointments without notification to the dentist will result in the child's name being placed at the bottom of the list," Mr. Sudde said.

He also stated that for the first appointment the child must be accompanied by an adult.

Monster dance and big name band mooted for local hospital drive

A monster dance with a big-name U.S. orchestra and coordination of all activities in aid of the growing White Rock Hospital Fund will be sought by White Rock Board of Trade. It was decided Tuesday night at White Rock Lodge.

This action followed presentation of a request by a delegation headed by Col. E. A. Pitman, White Rock. He pointed out that his delegation represented 1,700 members of the Canadian Legion from White Rock, Cloverdale, Crescent, Newton and Whalley, and over 1,000 others who were not members.

PROMISES BROKEN

He claimed that promises made by successive Federal Governments since World War I had remained unfulfilled, despite the efforts of the Legion to have them implemented.

"All we ask is fair play," said the Colonel. Tom Lindow, White Rock, Fraser Valley Zone Commander, asserted that the brief asked for an increase which was in line with the cost of living which had advanced considerably while the Legion had not been able to meet it.

Tom Irwin, secretary-manager, Cloverdale Branch, believed that the "great increase" was granted many local social assistance recipients now on the rolls in Surrey would be removed.

ONLY $100 MONTH

The brief asked for $50 a month for a single and $100 a month for a married veteran. Also that income from other sources be permitted up to $250 a year for a single and $500 for a married veteran.

Surrey Council has busy meeting; agenda varied

Court of Revision set for November 15; ask toll removal and PGE re-routing

Surrey council of revision for the voters list of the 1952 municipal election has been set for November 15 at 10 a.m. in the Municipal Hall, Cloverdale. Councillor Victor A. McPherson and Councillor Lloyd Atchison, will constitute the court.

Surrey council will again press for the removal of tolls from the Pettibone Bridge. This was decided following Councillor Jack Closskey's report that Surrey's industries committee, representing Trades Board and Chambers of Commerce in Surrey had approved publication of a 12-page booklet setting forth industrial possibilities in Surrey.

ACTION "VITAL"

Councillor V. A. McPherson believed removal of the tolls was vital to Surrey's development and urged that council again press for action.

Councillor H. A. Stewart said he had heard it rumored that employees at the bridge had been given three months' notice which would indicate, if true, that the Government plans some action.

RESOLUTION

The Dominion Government will also be asked to support the routing of the PGE along the South bank of the Fraser River, and a copy was sent to William Mott, M.P. It was pointed out that many interior points favored the scheme as it would enable shipments of grain and livestock to be routed economically to coast points.

Councillors agreed that the Federal Government favored while the Provincial Government was seeking the West Vancouver outlet.

Members let off steam at hectic annual meet

By KEN WHIFFLE

"This above all, to thine own self be true And then must follow as the night the day Thou canst not then be false to any man."

—Shakespeare.

The general meeting of Branch No. 8, Canadian Legion, held last Tuesday was a most exhilarating affair. An unusual amount of business was dealt with and very few members of the grand turnout failed to rise and blow off steam at once throughout the long session which adjourned towards midnight.

Seven applications for membership were endorsed and these new members will be initiated during the November general meeting.

NICE RED APPLES ... Wenatchee Valley with its wealth of fruit was a sight worth seeing. Mr. and Mrs. Todd and Diane and Glen, Brenda Vaden, who made the circular tour through Everett and over the coastal range into the Wenatchee Valley and up into the Okanogan during the Thanksgiving holiday weekend, said never had they seen so many apples. "Tree laden down with red apples added color to the picturesque scene and certainly helped to bring home the meaning of Thanksgiving," Mrs. Todd said.

Approval wanted

Editor,
Semiahmoo Sun.

Dear Sir:

If you have the space to spare would you be so kind as to publish the following.

OPEN LETTER TO THE PROPERTY OWNERS OF CRESCENT.

Ladies and Gentlemen,

There seems to be a misunderstanding regarding the request by the newly formed Legion Branch No. 240 for your approval of the use of the vacant land adjoining the Fire Hall for the erection of a Memorial Hall. I have received a large number of approval forms but there are still a great many because of the lack of parking space or on the grounds that it might lead to the issue of a license for the premises.

As regards parking space if at any more parking should be needed, there is quite a large open space on the west side of the Post Office, part belonging to the G.M.I. Co. and part to the Corporation of Surrey. At present it is an untidy, useless eyesore, but it could be cleaned and the depression filled in to make a handsome village square; and even if it did include railway property it is hardly likely that the Company would object to cars parking there.

The question of licensed premises is even more easily disposed of. I am informed that before a license could be granted, the approval of the residents would have to be obtained. For we state most emphatically, the Legion does NOT propose to apply for a license, and if there are any individual members with other ambitions, they have enough sense to realize the futility of fighting against public opinion.

For several years there has been considerable discussion about a Community Hall without any progress being made on the choice of site. The Legion would like a Memorial Hall and would prefer the obviously most suitable site in Crescent. It is there and belongs to the people, some of whom have actually pledged financial contributions towards the building of a hall. All that the Legion is attempting to do, is to cooperate with those people.

The Legion is a united body with a unanimous desire to get started on a project beneficial to the community in general, NOT licensed premises. We would however, prefer that the proposed building be designated a MEMORIAL HALL, because it would be in honor of those who died in the defense of our country and for the use of the living who are reaping the benefit of their sacrifice.

To all who have sent in approval slips we say "Thank you for your encouraging action." May we say the same to those who have not yet decided?

An act of remembrance

In a few days the citizens of White Rock will once more be asked to remember the dead of two World Wars by wearing a poppy, and, where possible, by displaying a wreath in places of business, churches, schools and in the windows of their homes.

When we display these emblems of remembrance made by the hands of disabled veterans who offered themselves in our defence, we remind ourselves and our children of the terrible price that has been paid for our freedom, and also show the world that these heroes and what they died for shall never be forgotten by us.

The funds contributed by the public provide employment for disabled veterans, help veterans and the widows and orphans of veterans to obtain their just recognition in the form of pensions and allowances through the Canadian Legion Service Bureaux, and also provide our Legion Branch with Welfare Funds which are used to assist veterans and their dependents of this district who are in distressed circumstances.

The White Rock Branch No. 8 of the Canadian Legion appreciates your generosity and co-operation of our citizens in the past, and as chairman of the 1951 Poppy Fund Campaign in this Community I solicit your whole-hearted support.

T. WOODBURN,
Chairman 1951 Poppy Fund Committee.

Accent on savings

Canada, like other nations of the free world, is acting in the realization that survival requires us to re-arm. We're devoting an increasing share of our national production to this purpose. A year ago about 2 per cent of our total output was for defence use. By the end of this fiscal year we will be putting around 10 per cent of our total productive effort into re-armament.

Although our productive capacity has been expanding steadily, it was barely able to keep pace with the demands of a rising standard of living and a large and growing rate of capital development even before the re-armament program was added. There is a limit to what we can turn out at any one time.

In this circumstance, personal saving by Canadians takes on an added importance. We have always been a thrifty people. We believe that it is to put something by out of income against a rainy day, to afford this may involve. We are convinced that the independence that goes with the habit of saving steadily adds to the dignity of citizenship.

To add to these benefits the contributions thrust on us by the civilian demands on the output of our economy strain. The offering of a new series of Canada Savings Bonds, this October provides us with a timely opportunity to increase our savings.

These Bonds offer an attractive opportunity. For instance, each $100 bond, when purchased for $90, matures in 1953, carries 10 coupons paying $1.50. The first coupon becomes payable August 1, 1953 (which is one year and nine months from date of issue) and subsequent coupons each year thereafter. If the bond is cashed before August 1, 1953, simple interest is paid at the rate of 2 per cent per year calculated on a monthly basis. If held to maturity, the yield on the bond is equal to 3.21 per cent per year throughout its term of 10 years and 9 months.

This system is a little more complicated than previous issues of Canada Savings Bonds, but it offers an increasing incentive to owners to hold their bonds over a longer period in comparison to the flat 2½ per cent paid on past issues. It is now possible to buy up to $5,000 of this issue in any one name, thus providing an opportunity to take advantage of the new terms on a larger scale than before. The bonds are always available at full face value plus interest at any time.

All these considerations combine to encourage us to buy as many Canada Savings Bonds as we possibly can.

NO RUN-AROUND

In years gone by this White Rock, just a summer resort was. But recent years have brought much change, and that is all because so many came to visit it, said that they found

The peace that they were longing for, to live the whole year round.

Now the population increase is beyond our wildest dreams.

Can we keep ahead of it, or will it be above our means.

We need more schools, our roads improved, in every direction.

More sewers, lights and transport, and simple fire protection.

Highways and many other things, which leads me to relate

I'm told that we will get them all, if we incorporate.

Well, may be yes, and may be no, let's keep an open mind.

For committees now are working, so wait while we find

if their reports can be relied on, backed by figures that are sound

Not just local politics, another run-around.

CANADA SAVINGS BOND SCRAPBOOK - By Jacques

Letters to the Editor

Support wanted

Editor, Semiahmoo Sun.

Dear Sir: Many people have asked about the RPCA Inspector's work, so I hope this will answer their questions.

The Inspector, Mr. R. P. Maltland, stands ready to give help and advice to all animal owners, to look up stray animals, to (on request) put to sleep over-aged or seriously ill pets, to treat or destroy, depending on the seriousness of the case, all animals having met with an accident, to board and find homes for dogs and cats.

However, as this Society is dependent upon public support, as we receive no government or any other grant, we are always grateful for a small donation when the Inspector is called upon for any case.

V. BOSCHAN.

Two wrongs

Editor, Semiahmoo Sun.

Dear Sir: On page 1 of the October 4 issue is a quotation from the Langley Advance headed "Wrong in principle," where Mr. Alex Hogg, M.L.A.

is taken to task for recommending lobbying by farmer groups. "There is an old motto, 'Eight fire with fire,' starting fires under certain conditions is a bad and dangerous thing to do, but sometimes it is necessary to do so to backfire to head off large bush or prairie fire. The same applies to lobbying; the farmer should do so by carrying markets, etc. by Mr. Hogg points out, to counter the lobbying of those who are lobbying against the farmer's interests.

The particular part of the article I wish to remark on is "Pressure groups have broken up the old order of supply and demand, which was the safety valve of all branches of human effort a few short years ago."

This statement is pure fallacy. Why, in history, did the law of supply and demand regulate conditions fairly? It has never happened.

Human nature what it is, there are always those who take every advantage possible to profit at the expense of the other fellow. This is the law of the jungle. In these days of cattle on the one hand and powerful labour unions on the other hand, talking of the law of supply and demand is just a joke.

Just remember the eye market during two or three years of war time.

It must be remembered that all necessities have a natural value which is governed only by the law of nature. Take for instance a bushel of Northern wheat (I use wheat because it is easier to follow), the natural value has never varied a fraction from the first bushel ever grown till now. Because a bushel of wheat (grain mentioned) will under all and every circumstance maintain life for a certain number of people. Therefore it always has the same natural value. Scarcity and demand value is entirely artificial fabrica-

(call) and man made. The same applies to all food-stuffs, cotton, wool, lumber, etc.

Nations pass by for all commodities is the only fair human made price possible. For many years the farmers have been requesting this parity price from the powers that be.

Poor Roads

Editor, Semiahmoo Sun.

Dear Sir: When I came to White Rock 20 years ago I was sure it would be a popular seaside resort.

Some years previous had been secured by people who subordinated without due regard for good roadways of moderate grade, which showed that potential sea ports and bathing beaches should never be sold to private owners.

Governments could afford to plan, develop and lease such properties as well as corporations and better than small landowners. How unpleasant it must be to live on the side of steep grades close to sound of squaky brakes, back-ringing and noisy cabs.

Pensioners will help

Editor, Semiahmoo Sun.

Dear Sir: I have recently heard from an O.A.P. a new way of getting funds for our local hospital and I think the idea is worth passing on.

The gentleman who suggests this is 82, and his idea is as follows: That everyone getting the new Federal Pension next year should donate the first month's cheque to the hospital fund. He thinks that as he has not had it before, he won't miss one month's cheque; by this I don't mean that this man has plenty, because he hasn't and at present he has only a small pension but he is willing to give his first month's pension cheque, and that would mean a gift of at least $40 from him, which I think is a good idea.

He has talked to several officials, and quite a few are in favor of it, so I thought I would let other folks say what they thought of the idea, through the medium of your paper.

Yours truly,

HOSPITAL WILLING WORKER.

White Rock Sketches...

By Evelyn Havens

Before we moved to White Rock I had a difficult time finding people who claimed to know the place. My most anxious one was: "Is it a friendly place?" I am by nature a friendly person, and to be told down in an unfriendly atmosphere is the worst fate my fancy can conjure up.

"Oh, yes," the answer was always the same. "It's a very friendly little place."

DISILLUSION

Frankly, on first, or even second, acquaintance, I found White Rock anything but friendly. And I still maintain that I am a friendly person, ready to go more than half way to establish pleasant relations with those around me. During those first few lonely weeks no one paid the slightest attention to us except one man in the neighborhood who was most kind in helping us to get oriented in our new surroundings.

For a time I thought perhaps people were leaving us alone until we got settled, although that attitude has never made sense to me. If there is ever a time when friendliness and neighborliness are needed, it's precisely when you are getting settled, it seems to me. It's a bleak business, even with friends thrown in. When, after three months had gone by, and we were still being treated as though we had some highly communicable disease, I decided that White Rock was definitely not interested in us.

THEIR ARE REASONS

As time passed, I began to recognize at least some of the reasons that gave to the town its air of chilly detachment. I soon learned, for example, that the place was made up, predominantly, of retired couples and senior citizens. Naturally, people who have attained enough years to fit into either category cannot be expected to go galloping about town calling on every newcomer, even if they are aware of the newcomer's arrival.

I also began to see that the territoriality of the place was not an insurmountable except for (1) the young and indefatigable; (2) people with cars; and (3) mountain goats.

Spread out as it is over a wide area, and built almost entirely on hills, the town is not a place in which to conduct a visiting back and forth. Even for people with cars, calling is an arduous business. Roads are narrow; there is practically no space in which to park anything wider than a bicycle; sometimes one has to drive for blocks before finding a place in which to turn around; and, inevitably, wherever one goes, there are STEPS. They may be steps leading up to the house or steps leading down, depending on which side of the road the visitor lives on. But whether the steps lead up or down, they get your feet going, and coming like the hills themselves. It wasn't long before I had to admit to myself that I'd have to be practically deaf before I'd walk down the steps and drag myself up steep flights of steps in search of companionship.

SEARCH FOR FRIENDS

In the circumstances, there was nothing for it but to seek my contacts with other human beings in the course of my daily walks, and this I did, but here, too, the results were far from gratifying. People who, "Go for the Open Road" and evaluate on the friendliness encountered while tramping along the highway, had obviously never lived in White Rock. I decided early on that I would try to find people for the most part, named me without even looking at me, and if I did happen to flash a furtive glance in my mischievous direction, the sight of a stranger smiling at them seemed to give them some sort of turn from which they had difficulty in recovering.

Sometimes, if I smiled determinedly enough, I received a faint smile in response, and, on rare occasions, even a pleasant "Good afternoon." But generally speaking, my overtures did not meet with success. People just looked mildly startled, and glanced quickly away, as though they had caught me in my underwear.

I found after a while that people seemed a bit mellow in the evening than during the day, and sometimes as I walked up the road in the quiet sunset hours a woman, pottering about the lawn, watering her flowers, or snipping grass, would look up and smile almost warmly, but that was as far as things ever went.

BIG MOMENT

One memorable evening, a man—tall, nice-looking, Englishman, balding, and in comfortable country attire, actually spoke to me of his own accord. It was one of the loveliest summer evenings we had had, with Mount Baker, looking down itself, the sea like blue silk, everything bathed in a heavenly golden light, and the air filled with soft music.

We met on the narrow bridge over-spanning the ravine, and suddenly, as if by evening, he looked at me and smiled.

"Beautiful evening," he offered, with surprising spontaneity.

"Beautiful," I agreed, trying not to lose my balance at the shock of being spoken to.

He showed his face for just an instant, and his eyes swept sea and hills and sky and curving beach.

There are few places in the world where one can see so much beauty," he observed, and there was the light of deep and genuine appreciation on his pleasant features.

I smiled again.

His glance came back to me. He smiled again, and quickened his stride.

"Well, goodnight."

"Goodnight," I said, almost lowering my head.

ANTI-CLIMAX

It would be nice to be able to report that the man turned out to be a lonely bachelor with a great deal of money, that he had taken his business to find out who I was, and eventually fell deeply in love with me, married me, and cured all my neuroses. But in order that no one be led astray at this point, I shall state simply and bluntly that I never saw the man again and that I don't know to this day who he was, whence he came, or whether he went.

APRICOT AND PRUNE UPSIDE-DOWN CAKE

This is attractive to serve with lovely apricots and prunes forming a design on the cake which

ORANGE CRANBERRY FLUFF

Beautiful to look at and even more wonderful to taste, is this orange cranberry chiffon pie. It's such a delightful recipe that you'll want to have it the next time you're trying to impress someone.

However, we'll wager that your family will enjoy it so much that you'll be serving it often from now on.

The pie owes its extra special flavor to the addition of fresh orange juice. This fresh citrus juice combines with cranberries to form a tangy bottom layer. This is made first, spread over the baked pastry, and chilled. Then the top layer of cream and gelatin is crunched by the flavor of fresh California orange juice. The result is an exciting double-deck chiffon pie. Don't be frightened by the elaborate looks of this glamorous pie. It's not nearly as hard to make as it may seem. The rosettes on top and around the sides are made from left-over pastry that has been cut into those tiny shapes. Rosettes around the sides were baked on the pastry, while the others browned in another pan, and then placed on top for decoration when the pie was completed.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

A picture such as this could easily be printed on a regular greeting card mask with the birth announcement printed or handwritten beside it.

Make Your Camera Work for You

NO ONE is so modest that he isn't pleased to hear his friends comment admiringly on his cleverness. And if you will make the fullest use of your camera, it—through the pictures you make with it—can do wonders to enhance your reputation in this regard. And it won't be an unearned reputation because you can use so much imagination in finding new ways to use your pictures.

For example, if your youngster has a birthday coming up soon you might write the invitation on the blackboard—or on a large piece of cardboard—and take a picture with the youngster standing beside it.

For adult parties snapshots of friends can be used for novel cards. Book plates and book labels—for your own use or for—can be made from a picture or taken especially for the occasion or from a favorite snapshot.

Using cards, not only for conventional occasions—Christmas, New Year, etc.—but for other occasions throughout the year are indeed a personal message when they make a snapshot. Birth announcements can be both clever and attractive when they include a picture—or are an actual picture.

Don't feel that you can't do these things unless you do your own darkroom work. There is nothing I have mentioned so far that cannot be easily worked out for you by your camera and photo-finisher.

Of course, if you do your own darkroom work you have far greater freedom in the things you can try. You can experiment with such darkroom tricks as double printing, paste-ups, or the addition of copy lines.

The next time you are planning a project, stop to think if there is any way you can bring your camera into it—to do part of the work for you. The first requirement, however, is that you start early enough to complete the job in time for the occasion. You can do a better job if you don't have to hurry.

WEEK BY WEEK

In the Garden

By G. E. SERY, Garden Editor

With the ball planting season well under way again, now is a good time to get acquainted with the lesser known varieties and types of narcissus, the botanical tulip and miniature bulb species.

Planting a few bulbs this Fall is a sure way to make their acquaintance and, incidentally, when the bulbs flower next spring they will add greatly to the interest of your garden and increase your gardening enjoyment by many hours.

VARIETIES

A few of a special interest are listed below.

NARCISSUS — Bulbocodium ciliatum, pale yellow; Minus (manus), small trumpet, double; Jonqui (dora pleso), sweet scented; Trevillian, yellow, outstanding; Cyclamen February Gold; C. March Sunshine; Triandrus albus (Angel's Tears); T. Thalia, snow white; T. Silver Chimes (its on a stem); Tazetta caliculatus (white and citron yellow).

TULIP — Red Emperor; Early (the lady); Emperor, early red; reds (white and yellow); several flowers; praestans; linifolia (searles); chrysantha (red and yellow); Kaufmanniana hybrida (for example, aurea, coccinea, Brilliant).

OTHER SPECIES — Anemone, particularly St. Brigid; crocus, erythronium (in variety); chionodoxa (in variety); snowdrop; prim (Eweis); muscar; gape hyacinth (armenacum, aureum); scilla alvica (Spring Beauty).

Many of the above are most suitable in the Rock Garden. Also most charming in the Rockery are some of the dwarf bulbous Iris, particularly reticulata, pung, which flowers in February and March; I. bakeriana, white, violet, and earlier than reticulata, Janet, and February, very fragrant; I. picea, February and March, flowers pale yellow.

PLANTING BULBS

Botanists say that a bulb is "a store house containing a new plant, full food and energy sufficient to carry it to maturity." Bulbs are much older and stronger than seeds, and better equipped to withstand the hazards which beset all infant plants.

But there are some conditions which will destroy them and these must be carefully avoided when you plant bulbs this Fall. The chief enemy of bulbs is poor drainage; in wet soil they will decay and this causes most failures with garden bulbs.

If there is any doubt about your soil being well drained, raise the bed six inches or more above the surface before planting.

Where there is much alternate freezing and thawing in the Winter this expands and contracts the soil so that bulbs not planted deeply enough are often squeezed out of the ground. The remedy is to plant deep and early enough for the bulbs to make roots, which will help anchor them.

DEPTH

Minimum depths are: Snowdrops, crocus, two inches; tulips, three inches; tulips, hyacinths, narcissus, six inches. If tulips are to be left in the ground for several years without being lifted they will last longer if set eight to ten inches below the surface.

All seeds plants and bulbs must have the packed bottom of the pot since they cannot take food and moisture except in contact with the soil. An air pocket between the bulb and soil will start rot.

This often happens when a bulb is dropped into a hole which narrows at the bottom, as when made with a pointed dibber; and the bulb is hung with an air space below it. Be sure to set the bulb base on the soil and pack well around it, digging the hole with a trowel, or a bulb dither with rounded end.

AID FERTILIZER

Though bulbs carry a food supply and will flower without fertilizers, larger flowers and more vigorous plants will result if animal plant food is supplied. (Do not use chemical fertilizers).

When spading up space for them, spread the plant food evenly over the bed, and spread it under. When planting between other plants in the border, mix half a teaspoonful of plant food with the soil at the bottom of each hole and cover it with at least an inch of fresh soil, before dropping in the bulb. Never use fresh manure on bulbs, however.

Bulbs planted after November 1 need special protection against dampness and frost injury, since they have less time to start new growth and make roots before the freeze-up comes. Plant them a little deeper and as soon as the surface of the soil freezes, cover them with an inch or two of leaves to shade the ground and prevent thawing and heaving during the Winter.

EASIEST FOR BEGINNER

Most lasting of the bulbs planted in the Fall are those lovely Spring flowers which have three names—daffodils, jonquils, narcissus. Call them by either name and you will be correct for all practical and poetic purposes. The plants seem to prefer the first two, and the botanists use the last.

The flowers inspire the poets, because they are true heralds of Spring. Blooming as soon after the ground thaws, the first large bulbs in the garden. Of all Fall bulbs they are probably the easiest for the amateur to grow.

They bloom each Spring for many years without replanting, and with small attention. Many types multiply until they crowd, when they should be lifted, divided, and replanted over a larger area. The principal difference between the types is in the size of the trumpets, which vary from the large trumpet varieties, which, when well grown, rise two feet high with flowers six inches across and trumpets ten inches long, to the poetic type whose trumpets are mere cups, usually of bright red.

CONTRAST

Hybrid varieties between these extremes have trumpets of varying sizes. While large trumpets are so far limited in color to white and yellow, there are medium trumpet varieties which have red and orange trumpets, combined with white or yellow petals, in vivid contrast.

Daffodils thrive in woods, where they can be "naturalized" and grow with little attention. They like to settle at the foot of trees or under trees, where they bloom before the leaves come out in locations which often are in the sun, but later will be shaded by them.

They are seldom lifted often more than once in three years. But never plant them where their foliage will be shaded by other plants, yellow, which indicates that a new bulb has been formed and has matured.

Raspberry varieties for Fraser Valley

The problem of which raspberry variety to plant confronts the berry grower of the Fraser Valley at frequent intervals. Each year plant breeders across the continent release new varieties which have merit under certain climatic and soil conditions.

good quality but a little dark. All other varieties tested had one or more poor characteristics which would prevent them being of use to the grower. The chief fault with most was that the berries crumpled badly.

BREEDING PROGRAM

In combination with these variety trials a raspberry breeding program is also under way at Agassiz. During the past four years 2,447 seedlings have been fruited out of which 21, or just over 1 per cent, have been retained for further testing.

One of the main objects of this program is to develop a raspberry variety of high quality and good yield which will withstand a certain amount of inter-planting. This would enable raspberries to be grown on the lower more poorly drained soils thus replacing the poor quality Newburgh variety.

In Mexico city there are no flies, mosquitos or mosquitoes.

News from Parliament Hill

By W. M. "BILL" MOOT, M.P.

The House met at 11 o'clock on Tuesday, October 9, and the first announcement was from our Prime Minister, who expressed gratification concerning the progress toward recovery of His Majesty the King.

After addressing the Speaker, Right Hon. L. St. Laurent said: We have each one of us been so relieved at the constant good news of the King's progress towards a speedy recovery since the grave surgical operation which he underwent two weeks ago—good news that was confirmed to me by Her Royal Highness Princess Elizabeth when I had the honor of welcoming her and the Duke of Edinburgh at Dorval yesterday—that I am sure we would all wish you, Sir, to convey to His Majesty on our behalf, with the expression of our respectful duty and of our loyal devotion, our gratification at his constant progress towards recovery and our sincere good wishes.

Then after conferring with the Leaders of the Opposition, Mr. St. Laurent proposed we all stand and sing "God Save the King."

PROROGATION

At 11:30 the Members of the House were invited to the Senate Chamber for the purpose of proroguing the Fourth Session of Parliament.

OPENING OF FIFTH SESSION

At 3:30 p.m. the House assembled, and went to the Senate Chamber for the Opening of the Fifth Session of Parliament, and listened to the Speech from the Throne by the Governor-General.

In his opening remarks he paid tribute to the Princess and the Duke of Edinburgh, and how our country was being honored by their visit at this time.

He then mentioned that the primary reason for calling the Fifth Session of Parliament at this time was to deal with the measures to provide increased security for our older citizens through payment of pensions, without a means test and as a matter of right, to all Canadians with appropriate residence qualifications who are over 70 years, and to establish a fund made up of special contributions levied for that purpose.

The plans for dispatching to Europe of our armed force as part of the Integrated force under General Eisenhower was mentioned.

PRIVILEGES

In my own opinion the most important part of the Speech from the Throne was when he said, the Government has received an invitation report from the Committee studying the combines legislation recommending that suppliers of goods should be prohibited from requiring or inducing distributors to sell such goods at fixed or minimum resale prices.

Members attending this Session will be asked to consider legislation arising out of the Committee's interim report.

Other items of interest mentioned in the Throne Speech and to be considered at this Session are the St. Lawrence Seaway and power project; the proposed St. Saskatchewan River project—The Government to bridge the Straits of Canso between Cape Breton Island and the mainland of Nova Scotia.

A Bill on Radio and Television embodying the recommendations of the Royal Commission on National development. We will be asked to consider changes in the Election Act. Bills will be introduced regarding the agricultural products board, Canada Land Survey, and the United Kingdom financial agreement.

Amendments will be submitted to the legislation respecting the National Gallery of Canada, the Government Annuities Act, the Public Works Act, the Civil Service Act and the Public Printing and Stationery Act.

GOOD LUCK

MESSAGE FROM THE PRINCIPAL

It is gratifying to see the energy and activity which is being displayed this year by the Semiamhoo High School Newspaper Club. We shall view with considerable interest the appearance and popularity of a weekly edition of Hi-Vue, published through the courtesy and cooperation of the Semiamhoo Sun. It is our hope that by following our present plan we may make the School Newspaper available to more students and homes.

In school, as in other organizations, there are bright weeks and dull weeks. Perseverance, determination, and intelligence in the preparation of news and comments will result in a paper which is a credit to our school, and a tribute to the student editors.

I wish the Newspaper Club every success in this new venture.
M. B. SANFORD.

WELCOME

To all Grade Eight and newcomers we extend a hearty welcome. We hope you enjoy your year at Semiamhoo High School.

OPPORTUNITY KNOCKS

By ANNE SKELTON.

Up to this time the Semiamhoo Newspaper Club has printed its own paper at the school and been able to get out only four editions during the school year.

This year, due to the kind offer of Mr. Pinchin, we are able to have a weekly page within the Semiamhoo Sun. Thank you, Mr. Pinchin, for giving us this opportunity to gain more experience in the field of Journalism.

Also, an orchard to Miss Jones, our able counsellor, who has helped us over the first bumps.

PREPARE NOW

By DOREEN FENNEL.

Each new school year sees a new graduating class, most of whom have spent a great part of their high school life at Semiamhoo.

The Grade buys themselves each term with ways of raising funds. A successful candy sale was held on September 21 in the main hall with all the "candy" disappearing at a rapid rate. October 12 saw a pie sale in the main hall and the many varieties of pie were quickly snapped up.

Only graduates-to-be take part in these activities which vary from sales and concerts to dances and games throughout the year. It is through the support of the staff and the school body that the '52 '53 will be a success.

THE STAFF

New teacher is from Dawson Creek

A newcomer to the school is Miss M. Jones who hails from Cranbrook, British Columbia. She graduated from the University of B.C. Art, Effective Living and Library are the subjects she teaches although her favorites are English and Social Studies.

Last year she taught at South Peace High School, Dawson Creek. So far she thinks Semiamhoo High School is fine and finds the students co-operative. Her pet peeves are students who don't do their homework and those who chew gum in school.

Her favorite sports are golf, badminton, bowling, swimming and skating. She owns a 1951 Chevrolet pink-and-black, affectionately called "Linda."

Being no stickler-homes, she has travelled to Fairbanks, Alaska; to Montreal twice in the last two years; California, as far as Los Angeles; Salt Lake City, and Bowdoin National Park.

Green tops soccermen in local scoring spree

By ANNE FENNEL and ERNIE FAIRHOLME

Another term is here and Semiamhoo High is off to a good start in soccer competition. This year's team, like last year's trophy-winning team, is coached by Mr. Vogler.

The line-up for games is as follows:

Goal—Ken Stewart.
Fullbacks—Derrek Under and Saul Hogg.
Halfbacks—Bill Meek, Cliff Melnyk, Keith Falconer.
Forwards—A. De Terry, John Vaux, Glenn Green, Bob Rabb, Tim Coyne.
Baba—Larry Cohors, Tom Currie, Bill Connor, Dick Pratt.
Results of games played to date are:
Sept. 19: Semiamhoo 7, Queen Elizabeth 0.
Sept. 26: Semiamhoo 3, Princess Margaret 1.
Oct. 3: Semiamhoo 6, North Surrey 0.
Oct. 10: Semiamhoo 6, Ladner 0.
Goal credits to date: Glenn Green 10, Bob Rabb 7, Cliff Melnyk 2, John Shaw 2, Bill Meek 1.

Lower Fraser Valley Track Meet

On September 14, an inter-school track meet for all of Surrey was held at Cloverdale in conjunction with the Surrey Fall Fair. At the end of the first three events, Semiamhoo was last with 2 points. Gradually we climbed to fourth at this place.

At the beginning of the last event Semiamhoo was tied for first place with Princess Margaret with 61 points. Semiamhoo placed fourth and Princess Margaret

SOCCER DAZE

By BILL MECK

I have been playing soccer, on and off, for the past five or six years and now I feel ready to give my opinion of the game and its players.

Soccer is a game of skill and precision timing. A good soccer player must have other qualities besides strong legs, and a thick skull, the latter of course being used for propelling the ball when you cannot reach it with your feet.

It is not advisable for anyone who has a pointed head to play soccer. Repairs for punctured balls cost too much.

WATCH THOSE SHINS

Soccer can be dangerous. It is not difficult to get badly bruised. You do not believe this, ask anyone who plays soccer to show you their battle scars, or "shin blacks," as they are known in our league.

The world's record, I believe, is 12 per shin in one game, received by a Brazilian who wishes to remain anonymous. One thing a soccer team should have is a good goalkeeper. Preferably an Indian rubber man, but then they are scarce and costly like many other things these days.

Fullbacks should be big and brawny, the fiercer looking the better, in order to frighten the opposition. Halfbacks should be able to kick well, both the ball and opposing forwards' shins.

ENERGY NEEDED

Forwards must have boundless energy. They must also be well practiced in the art of slipping between the legs of the Goalies on the opposing fullback line. Above all, soccer players must be able to take it.

I have been told this numerous times and yet still do not know what it is we have to take. But I am still hoping.

Quite an odour was given off. Then, a certain character in the grade 10 decided to bring a duck for biological study. I do hope Mr. Long enjoyed his Thanksgiving Dinner.

This year we have three pathetic cheer leaders—Bey Thorpe, Shannon MacLean and Shirley Taylor. Keep up the school spirit girls. Margaret Sawcuff, of Class 12, left for Burnaby late in September. A farewell party was given by the girls.

Donna Pugh was elected President of the Graduating Class at the beginning of the school year.

BILL MECK HEADS STUDENT COUNCIL

The Students' Council this year is capably presided over by Bill Meek. Bill, however, could not go far without the able assistance of his vice-president, Delores McIntyre, secretary Eleanor McKay, treasurer Carolyn Meek, and Sports Representative Ernie Fairholm, and the various class reps.

Student fees have been collected and student cards issued. Plans are being made for a Hard-Time Mixer.

New members initiated; recognition service held

On September 11, president Muriel Bostad banged her gavel on the desk and the first meeting of the Girls H-I-Y for the year began.

Supported by her executive, Diana Mallinson, vice-president, Norma Angus, secretary, and Stella Ashton, treasurer, Muriel began the business for this year, which started out with the initiation of new members.

They carried candles and were conscious of the fact that they would be penalized for talking to boys or refusing to carry out the requests of the senior members.

At noon hour a very amusing game was witnessed by the student body when the old members challenged the new members to a running game of soccer. At the old members were outnumbered 3 to 1, the new members consented to play in their nightgowns and carry their candles.

Heather Walker scored the lone goal of the game when, in a tussle before the goal she kicked the ball into her own goal!

THEY THOUGHT IT WAS ALL OVER

Yes, they thought it was all over but the freshettes of the Girls H-I-Y were not allowed to breathe easy.

Tuesday, October 9, marked the evening of the first house meeting. The new girls arrived with big smiles on their faces, not knowing what was in store for them. The meeting started off with a sing-song.

After the business portion of the program everyone was sent on a scavenger hunt bringing back all kinds of articles to clutter up the Hoeg residence. The winning team was presented with a pack of gum.

The freshettes were now ushered outside to wait.

And from the Freshette's Point of View—

We waited outside in the dark, blindfolded. One by one we were led up the stairs and over the doorstep where we left our shoes. We were asked to shake hands with Death and shuddered when we left the proffered clammy hand.

We were taken out in an airplane and then told to parachute off. We shrieked, and jumped—four inches to the floor. After this excruciating lesson we received a soothing floral treatment. From then on we were wary.

That is until we reached that nature! (The girls would like to know why the Hoeg family didn't eat their marionet for supper). We were now asked to kneel and dry our feet and parade into the kitchen where our already decreed friends were rummaged into a bowl of paste! (The feast and water kind). At this point we desisted and cleaned up.

Recognition Service

The official recognition service for new members of the H-I-Y was held on October 14 at the Olivet Baptist Church in New Westminster. Eight schools in the Lower Fraser Valley took part.

The girls wore the official H-I-Y uniform: dark skirt, white blouse,

Benefit concert aids Hertzog; quartet sings

Friday afternoon, October 5, the teachers put on a benefit concert for Raymond Hertzog, who broke his ankle while playing soccer.

Mr. Martin acted as Master of Ceremonies. The first item on the program were songs by the "Bachelors" which was won fame throughout the valley. The "Bachelors" consisted of Mr. Primrose, the Mills, Mr. Long, Mr. Mandell, Mr. Under and Mr. Sanford.

They sang, "John Brown's Body," "The Bull Dog and the Bull Frog," and "O, Dem Golden Slippers." The next item featured Mr. Kiech with his accordion, Mr. Kiech with his guitar, Mr. Sanford, first with violin and then guitar, and Mr. Mills at the piano. They played "The Missouri Waltz" and "Joanna," a schottische.

The third number was Mr. Primrose's music class, singing "Twinkle, Twinkle Little Star." They really did a beautiful job for such a small class. The "Bachelors" made a comical harmonizing on "O' MacDonald Had a Farm" and "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot."

The last number was a Virginia Riddle done by the students. The three-piece orchestra of the Mills, Sanford, and Under furnished the music.

Everybody thoroughly enjoyed this concert and we all hope it will aid again those with another such show.
